

Children who are deaf CAN learn to listen and speak

On Loud Shirt Day everyone wore their loudest and brightest shirts to work and donated to help give deaf children a voice. Loud Shirt Day is the annual appeal of The Hearing House and the Southern Cochlear Implant Paediatric Programme, two charities who are dedicated to enabling deaf children with a cochlear implant to listen and speak like their hearing peers.

We hope everyone had a great time getting loud and raising money to help give deaf children a voice. We know that we sure did!

In true kiwi “style” Drake, across each of their 11 offices got behind Loud Shirt Day, with a range of iconic outfits that came out of the woodwork... nana’s wardrobe... the local op-shop... and even high end fashion label stores...

There was the loud and the lame, the retro and the tame, there were those whose shirts were garish, and some that were truly out there. There were also some very groovy and wonderful “bests”.
